BRENT

Special to The Journal.
Brent, July 15.—The farmers are happy now. The general rain of last Monday revived the drooping vegetation and gave a glorious season for planting out sweet potatoes.
Many have planted seeds for fall "greens," which may come up nicely, and burn out when the showers let up. Some may succeed, however, and reap fine prices for the first in market.
In August and September is the time to plant whole Irish potatoes for a fall crop.

We have the appointment of a protracted Methodist meeting at the Brent church, commencing Friday night, the 14th inst., and holding through the following week.
Prof. Allen seems to be growing younger from day to day—but he is now old enough to stand alone and has commenced walking about. He will probably be in school "before the trains on the 'Pensacola Western' railroad commence rushing through his premises.

COTTAGE HILL

Special to The Journal.
Cottage Hill, July 15.—The pear crop is now being shipped north, though the crop is light compared with last year.

The Heaves saw mill is turning out some first-class lumber. In fact it is the best class of lumber that the writer has seen in this section.
Mr. Clark and family, who have been living on the Wineford property for some months, have moved to the property near the depot known as the court house property.

John McDonald, who has been taking a vacation in Ohio for a couple of weeks, is expected home to-day.

Cured of Bright's Disease.
Geo. A. Sherman, Lisbon Red Mills, Lawrence Co., N. Y., writes: "I had kidney disease for many years and had been treated by physicians for twelve years; had taken a well known kidney medicine and other remedies that were recommended but got no relief until I began using Foley's Kidney Cure. The first half bottle relieved me and four bottles have cured me of this terrible disease. Before I began taking Foley's Kidney Cure I had to make water about every fifteen minutes, day and night, and passed a brick-dust substance, and sometimes a slimy substance. I believe I would have died if I had not taken Foley's Kidney Cure." W. A. D'Alemberte, druggist and apothecary.

A Vicious Letter Writer.
The famous Dr. Andrew Bell had a wife who, after exhausting all her ingenuity in making him miserable, finally left him. She then began writing him long letters filled with personal abuse and when she found he did not take the trouble to open them took to abusing him on the envelope. One she addressed, "To the supreme of rogues, who looks the hangdog that he is, Dr. (such a doctor) Andrew Bell." Another was thus pleasingly inscribed: "To that ape of apes and knave of knaves, Dr. Andrew Bell, who is recorded to have once paid a debt, but a small one you may be sure it was that he selected for this wonderful experiment—in fact, it was fourpence ha'penny." Had it been on the other side of silence he must have died before he could achieve so dreadful a sacrifice.—London Tatler.

A Clever Cabby.
The king of the Belgians once left his umbrella in a hansom when driving in Brussels. This was returned to him by a cabby a few hours afterward by the proud cabby, who was offered for his honesty by King Leopold the sum of 100 francs. The astute Jehu, however, begged a great favor of the king. Could he have the umbrella instead of the money? The favor was granted, and before many days had passed the cabman had put up the umbrella for sale, and it was knocked down to some royal enthusiast for 1,100 francs. When King Leopold heard of this he exclaimed, "Well, I've heard of an umbrella being put up to keep off showers of rain, but this seems to have been put up to bring down showers of gold!"

Queer Ways of the Toad.
Paternal affection is not perhaps the precise emotion that we should be disposed to look for in the cold blooded frog, but the Surinam toad appears to exhibit this praiseworthy attitude of mind toward his numerous progeny. When his mate lays her eggs the solicitous father places them carefully upon her back, where in due time their presence causes an irritation that produces numerous small holes, into which the eggs forthwith drop. In these cells, which from natural pressure get to be hexagonal, like honeycombs, the young frogs are finally hatched and for a bit scramble about their mother's back, hiding in their nurseries when danger threatens.

The Sea Anemone.
The sea anemone resembles in shape a morning glory. Its mouth opens like the cup of that flower, and above it are seen a number of tentacles waving in the water. Its food consists of anything it can get, but generally it gets the minute insects that float in the sea. At any alarm it closes its cup and is then hardly distinguishable from the rock on which it is rooted. It has a set of sucker muscles that attach it so firmly to the rock that it will sometimes be torn in pieces rather than let go.

One Bird Barred.
"Can we keep birds?" inquired Mr. Younghusband, who was looking at the flat.
"Well, you can keep canaries and such birds as them," replied the genial landlord, "but there's one bird barred from these apartments."
"What bird is that?"
"Stork!"—Louisville Courier-Journal.

CHAFFERS' BAND TO GIVE CONCERTS

It is becoming plainly evident that Electric Park is steadily gaining in public favor as a pleasure resort. The regular weekly concert and dance on Thursday evening is looked forward to with fond anticipation by a large number of amusement loving people, some young and some not so young, and now it is proposed to have a similar entertainment there on Tuesday night with Chaffers' band furnishing the music. It is understood that the Tuesday night program will be somewhat different from that of Thursday night, devoting more attention to dancing and the music confined mostly to the latest popular airs, with perhaps a few light overtures by way of variety. This will give people another fine opportunity to get out and enjoy fresh air these lovely summer evenings. In case this arrangement is made, as now seems almost certain, this fact will be advertised in The Journal.
